CHARTER BACKGROUND & TALKING POINTS

Updated August 2006

EARLY CHARTERS (1950s-1970s)

In 1958-59, a new modern charter for Honolulu was proposed by a commission and the Board of Supervisors, approved by the voters, and then amended and ratified by the State Legislature. In the 1960's, changes to the State Constitution gave counties the right to adopt their own "home rule" charters without the legislature's approval. The first "home rule" charter for Honolulu was approved by the voters in 1972, and is the basis for the charter that we have today.

CHARTER REVISION PROCESS

The charter's Article XV requires a Charter Commission to be convened every 10 years in order to review the charter and propose changes. These Commissions provide an opportunity for comprehensive study, public input, and open deliberation over the course of many months.

Alternatively, the charter may also be amended by:

- City Council – Council passes a resolution, and then the proposal is put on the ballot for voter approval.
- Citizen Initiative – Ten percent of registered voters sign a petition, and then the proposal is put on the ballot for voter approval.
- Mayor's Reorganization – Mayor proposes a reorganization of departments, and then Council approves or disapproves the reorganization.

PREVIOUS CHARTER COMMISSIONS

1971-72: A Charter Commission presented a revised charter (package of 62 amendments) to the voters. The new charter was adopted. Major revisions included strengthening the legislative branch, improving comprehensive planning, and increasing citizen participation.

1981-82: A Charter Commission presented a package of 50 amendments to the voters. There was substantial controversy, and the package was rejected.

1991-92: A Charter Commission presented 32 separate amendments to the voters. 27 amendments were approved. Notable revisions included term limits for Mayor and City Council, nonpartisan elections, and numerous planning/zoning reforms.

1998: The Charter Commission presented 8 amendments to the voters, and 7 were approved. Notable changes included reorganizing city departments, a five-year term for police chief, and staggered Council terms.

OTHER CHARTER AMENDMENTS

Council-Initiated Amendments. Amendments have been proposed via City Council resolution and approved by the voters in the following elections: 1974, 1978, 1984, 1986, 1988, 1990, 1994, 1996, 2002, and 2004. Recent examples of Council-initiated changes include the creation of the Office of the City Auditor (2002); an increase in the number of Neighborhood Commissioners who must have neighborhood board experience (2004); and a provision to allow for temporary replacement of City Council members called to active military duty (2004).

Amendments by Citizen Petition. The charter was amended via citizen petition in 1982. Voters approved a citizen-led proposal to allow for ordinances by citizen initiative.

CONVENING OF THE 2005-06 CHARTER COMMISSION

Council-initiated amendments in 2004 also included a provision to convene a Charter Commission in 2005, and then in every year ending in “4.” The 2005-06 Commission is currently at work and will propose amendments to the voters on the 2006 General Election ballot. This is only the fourth Charter Commission convened since the adoption of the charter in 1972. Under existing charter provisions, the next Charter Commission will be appointed in 2014 to propose amendments for the 2016 ballot.

PROCESS OF THIS CHARTER COMMISSION

More than one year ago, the Charter Commission invited proposals from the public for possible changes to the city charter. Over 100 formal proposals and many other comments were received. During the past year, the Commission has engaged in an extensive review process with numerous public meetings, including community meetings around the island. Some of these meetings lasted many hours, with voluminous written and oral testimony from elected officials, city employees, interest groups, and ordinary citizens. The Commissioners have welcomed this testimony, as it has provided important information to help them make decisions.

CHARTER AMENDMENTS FOR THE 2006 BALLOT

The Commissioners have selected 12 proposals to be placed on the General Election ballot in November 2006. Some of the topics are:

- Council term limits and staggered terms
- Funding for land conservation and affordable housing
- Curbside recycling
- Civil fines for ethics violations
- Pedestrian- and bicycle-friendly city
- Duties of the Emergency Services director and Fire Chief
- Exempting Liquor Administrator from civil service
- Making the Salary Commission’s decisions final

Currently, the Commission is finalizing the charter text and the wording of ballot questions.

HOW CITIZENS AND ORGANIZATIONS CAN HELP

This fall, the Charter Commission will be carrying out a public education program to inform the voters about the proposed amendments. The Commission needs help from organizations and active citizens to help reach the rest of the public.

1. Should City Council term limits be replaced by Alternative A or B below; and, separately, to address concerns relating to election of City Council members caused by reapportionment every ten years, should staggered terms be replaced by Alternative A or B below?

Present: The City Council consists of nine members who are elected to four-year terms. Councilmembers and the Mayor are currently limited to two consecutive four-year terms. Councilmembers' terms are also staggered, so that five of the seats are elected in one election, and the other four seats are elected in the next election two years later.

- The new system for the Council would be determined by the result of the vote on the next question.

- Council term limits would be eliminated; Councilmembers may be re-elected without limit on number of terms served.
- The term limit for the Mayor would not be changed.

If ALTERNATIVE B is selected:

- Staggering of Councilmember terms would be eliminated, so that all seats would be up for election in the same year.
- Council term limits would be extended, so that Councilmembers may serve up to three consecutive four-year terms.
- Councilmember terms already served would not count toward the limit, so current incumbents would be eligible for an additional three consecutive four-year terms.
- The term limit for the Mayor would not be changed.

3. Should one percent of annual property tax revenues be appropriated to funds for land conservation and affordable housing?

Present: There are no specially dedicated funds for acquisition of public lands for land conservation or for providing and maintaining affordable housing.

- A minimum of one percent of real property tax revenues would be placed in two special funds; one fund would be known as the "Clean Water and Natural Lands Fund" and the other would be known as the "Affordable Housing Fund."
- Moneys in the "Clean Water and Natural Lands Fund" would be used to purchase or acquire real estate for land conservation.
- Moneys in the "Affordable Housing Fund" would be used to provide and maintain affordable housing for persons earning less than fifty percent of the median household income in the city.
- Moneys in the funds would not lapse, but shall remain in the funds, accumulating from year to year.

4. Should the powers, duties, and functions of the Director of Environmental Services include comprehensive curbside recycling?

Present: The powers, duties, and functions of the Director of Environmental Services include the development and administration of solid waste collection, processing, and disposal systems, but do not specifically include curbside recycling.

- The amount of the fines would be established by ordinance.

6. Should races with only two candidates be held in the General Election instead of the Primary Election?

Present: All City elections, even those involving two candidates only, are held during the first special election (on Primary Election day).

If proposal passes:

- In any City election in which there are only two candidates for a position, the election would be held at the second special election (on General Election day), rather than at the first special election (on Primary Election day).

7. Should the City Council's power to reject Salary Commission recommendations be eliminated?

Present: The City Council has the power to reject the Salary Commission's recommendations as to the salaries of elected officials and certain high-ranking City employees.

- The City Council would not be able to reject the Salary Commission's decisions.

8. Should one of the priorities of the Department of Transportation Services be to make Honolulu a pedestrian- and bicycle-friendly city, and should the powers, duties, and functions of the Director of Transportation Services include bikeway systems?

Present: The Director of Transportation Services is responsible for transportation systems, public transit, traffic control facilities and devices, traffic safety programs, and other duties.

If proposal passes:

9. Should the Liquor Administrator, Deputy Administrator, and secretary be exempt from civil service provisions?

Present: The positions of Liquor Administrator and Deputy Liquor Administrator are civil service positions.

10. Should the Charter be amended to state the additional services currently being provided by the Director of Emergency Services and by the Fire Chief?

Present: The powers, duties, and functions of the Director of Emergency Services and the Fire Chief are set forth in the Charter, but do not specify certain powers, duties, and functions relating to emergency medical services, ocean safety, hazardous materials, and injury prevention that are already being performed by the departments.

If proposal passes:

- The powers, duties, and functions of the Director of Emergency Services would specify that the Director shall be the primary provider of emergency medical care, and that the Director would develop programs related to injury prevention, provide for ocean safety programs, and be the primary responder to emergencies arising on the beach and near shore waters.
- The powers, duties, and functions of the Fire Chief would specify that the Fire Chief shall also provide emergency medical care and specify that the Fire Chief shall respond to hazardous material incidents.

11. Should capital budget appropriations lapse 12 months after the fiscal year, instead of the current 6 months?

Present: The capital budget includes appropriations for constructing public improvements, acquiring land, and carrying out planning and engineering studies. Appropriations authorized in the capital budget may be spent during that fiscal year and for 6 months thereafter.

If proposal passes:

- The time would be extended, so that money appropriated in the capital budget may be spent during the fiscal year and for 12 months thereafter.

12. Should the Charter be amended to also provide public notice by electronic medium and for housekeeping amendments (i) to conform to current functions and operation, (ii) to conform to legal requirements, (iii) to correct an inadvertent omission, and (iv) for clarity?

- Revise the powers, duties, and functions of the Director of Information Technology;
- Include the Director of Customer Services in the list of department heads to be appointed by the Mayor with the advice and consent of the Council and may be removed by the Mayor;
- Include the reference to the Hawaii Constitution prohibition on Ethics Commission members from taking active part in political campaigns;
- Delete the unconstitutional prohibition on political campaigning by Police Department employees;
- Delete the Civil Defense Administrator from the list of department heads to be appointed by the Mayor with the advice and consent of the Council and who may be removed by the Mayor;
- Delete the requirement of Social Security numbers on petitions for recall, ordinances by initiative, and charter amendments;

This ballot question combines seven items. One item is to also provide public notice by electronic medium and the remaining items are housekeeping amendments to conform to current functions and operations, to conform to legal requirements, to correct an inadvertent omission and for clarity. If the proposal passes:

- Language regarding the Department of Information Technology would be modernized to use terms such as "information technology" and "telecommunications" instead of "data processing."
- To correct an inadvertent omission, the Director of Customer Services will be included in the list of department heads to be appointed by the Mayor with the advice and consent of the Council and may be removed by the Mayor.

The City Charter is Honolulu’s “constitution,” serving as the governing document that establishes the principles by which our City government operates. The Charter requires that the Mayor and City Council appoint a Commission every ten years to review the Charter and submit changes to the voters.

The 2005-2006 Charter Commission held 35 public meetings and received extensive testimony on changes to the Charter. After studying many proposals, twelve charter questions were selected to present to the voters at the General Election.
